

1. Elm house will now be known as Challis House. We chose Ellie Challis as a role model because she is courageous, determined and enthusiastic. Ellie Challis is a local hero, someone who never gave up or stopped thriving to be the best she could be. She has overcome numerous challenges in her life and her courage is something the Student Council feel every pupil here should aspire to.

2. Cedar House will now be called Rashford House. We chose Marcus Rashford as a leader because he is generous, determined and an activist. Marcus Rashford campaigned endlessly to support vulnerable children who without support would have gone unfed during lockdown. He is someone we should remember when it comes to helping others.

3. Ash house will now be known as Attenborough House. We chose David Attenborough as a role model because he is intelligent, educational and responsible. David Attenborough is a responsible member of society who has worked tirelessly to make the world a more eco friendly place. He is a shining example of what we should remember when thinking about making our school a more environmentally friendly place.

4. Oak House will now be called Malala House. We chose Malala as a leader because she is hard working, strong and brave. Malala fought for her and other young girls' right to an education at great danger to herself. The Student Council believe that her strength is something we should all channel when something seems to difficult or even impossible.

5. All of our inspirational people have one key thing in common. That they are INSPIRATIONAL, we hope their actions and strength's will help us to continue to do the right thing and be inspirations to our peers each day.

Oak - Malala House

Cedar - Rashford House
